The Croy Grotto

"fishing with ellis"

just to be alone with my thoughts

green, lumpy, bumpy, steep

My first experience of a canal was when I started Canal College on my way to canal college I walk from camelon to the future wheel alongside Loch Va there are alot of wildlife along the tow path I also seen canal boats and loads of lovely scenery

The valley at Watling Lodge

"I am the sound of the blue water
I am the boat sailing beside the fishes
I am the brightness of the sun
I am the freedom of walking along the canal
I am the catching of the monster"

GRANGEMOUTH

BO'NESS

The 'ditch' at polmont woods

"for as long as I can remember I have used the valley as we call it for fun, wether that be playing and seek, to playing on the tarzy's or rolling up and down the hills."

"the lily pads"

"it isn't really a wall. its kind of a series of canters that show where things might have been"

"excited because the boat could have been a pirate boat it felt weird, it had holes in it and you could see out of them"

"Stones of the Bar hill fort"

"smelly, lilly, bog, slippy, muddy, play tig, jump trees, made a path"

"on a misty day people say you can hear the roman soldiers marching"
