

HAZARD INFORMATION FOR TEACHERS CARRICK STONE: ALTAR

The Carrick stone is the only Roman altar remaining in the open air in Scotland. It can be found within railings around 100m along a footpath running south-west from Portland Road, off Carrickstone Road, Cumbernauld close to two water towers. On-street parking on Portland Road.

It is the responsibility of teachers and group leaders to complete a risk assessment prior to any site visit with a group. This is a requirement of most education authorities. The following information is intended as a preparatory tool and does not replace a teacher's or group leader's own risk assessment.

Please be aware that changes in weather may affect the risks inherent in an outdoor site. Pupils should dress for outdoors.

POTENTIAL HAZARDS AT CARRICK STONE

PEDESTRIAN ACCESS TO SITE

- Risk from moving cars on the street.
- Paved path may be slippery in wet weather
